15th Global Conference on Ageing Rights Matter

Virtually and In person | Niagara Falls, Canada
10-12 November 2021

About

“Rights Matter” is the virtual and in-person global conference on ageing for 2021. It represents a critical point of connection for all those fighting for the rights of older people in a time when their value may have been in question against the backdrop of the brutal nature and consequences of the global pandemic.

Four action areas of The Decade of Healthy Ageing 2020-2030: ageism, age-friendly cities and communities, primary health care, and long-term care alongside older people and pandemics constitute the structural pillars of the IFA Global Conference which is expected to attract more than a thousand delegates around the world across governments, NGOs, industry, academia and older people.

No person, young or older, is expendable. Older people are neither invisible nor powerless, their voices and leadership count. Now is not the time to stand aside – we have a collective responsibility to help influence and shape policy with and on behalf of older people into the future.

Audience Demographics and Event Details

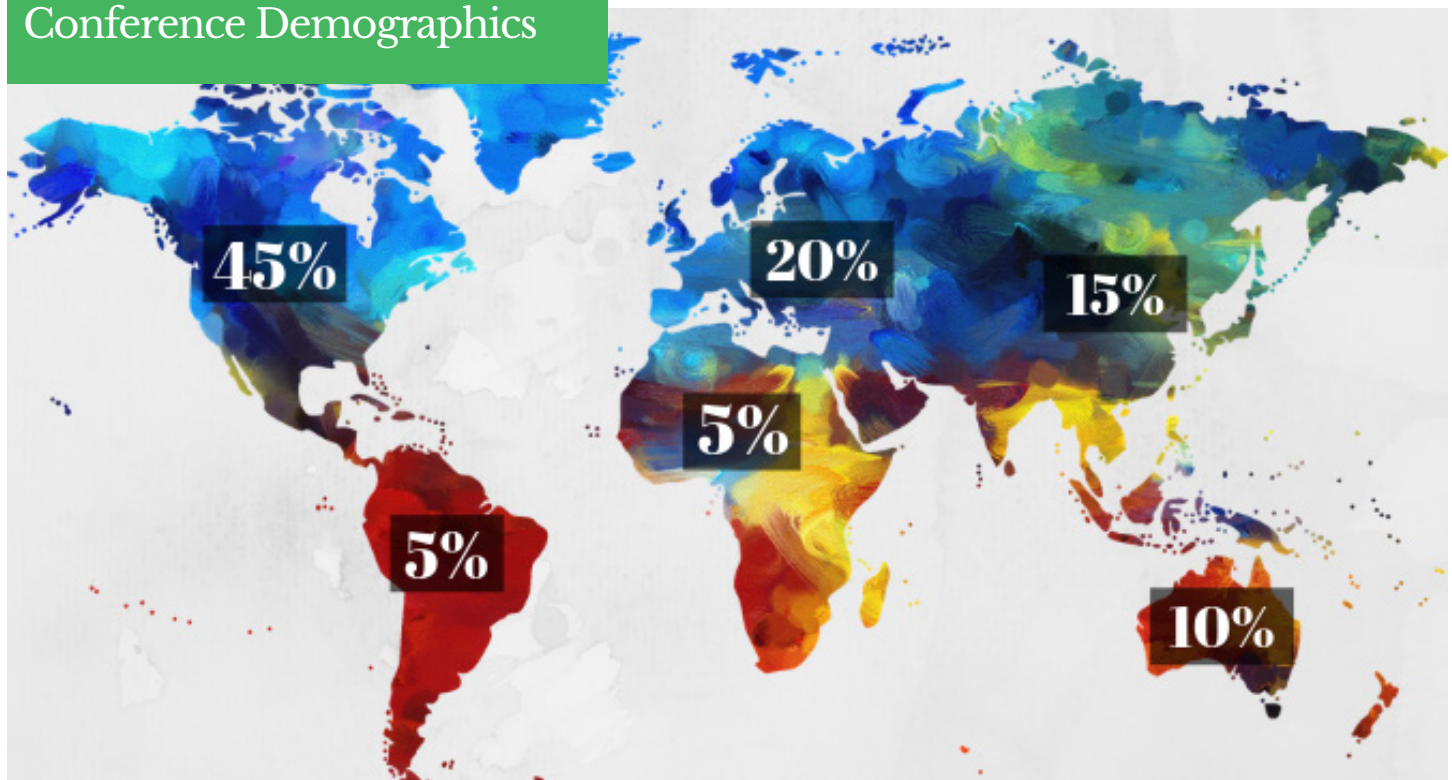

“Rights Matter” - Protecting and respecting the rights of older people is central to creating an environment that enables people to do what they value while addressing inequalities; strengthening age-friendly environments; combating ageism, and optimizing functional ability.

The IFA’s 15th Global Conference on Ageing responds to the intersection of the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and the priorities of the WHO Global Strategy and Action Plan.

The conference will be convened virtually and in-person in Niagara Falls, Canada at the Hilton Hotel and Suites Niagara Falls / Fallsview Casino Resort on 10-12 November 2021. The IFA is proud to be supported by an international network of partners and is committed to creating an environment that enables older people to do what they value through a deeper evidence-based understanding. The virtual and in-person conference will feature prominent experts presenting and discussing critical issues within the field of ageing and will host delegates from all over the world.

The International Federation on Ageing (IFA) is an international non-governmental organization (NGO) with a membership base comprising government, NGOs, industry, academia, and individuals in over 70 countries. The IFA has general consultative status at the United Nations (UN) and its agencies and is in formal relations with the World Health Organization (WHO). It is a registered charity in Canada, with an international and democratically elected Board of directors.

About the International Federation on Ageing

The International Federation on Ageing (IFA) is an international non-governmental organization with a membership base comprising government, NGOs, academics, industry, and individuals in 70 countries. The IFA began operations in 1973, at a time when the social and economic impact of population ageing was only beginning to be understood by governments around the world.

The IFA has general consultative status at the United Nations and its agencies, and is in formal relations with the World Health Organization. The IFA has been involved in drafting key initiatives such as the UN Principles for Older Persons, actively advocating for older people to be recognized in the Sustainable Development Goals and maintaining a strong voice in the dialogue on how to best protect the rights of older people globally.

The IFA is a registered charity in Canada, with an international and democratically elected Board of Directors.
